BIG PICTURE | COMMUNICATION ARTS

What we do:

- Proofing, copywriting, editing, story hunting and content coordination
- Graphics, design, page layout, project management
- Digital, web and mobile technologies and statistics
- Online church and social media advocacy and strategy
- Customer care, product support and special events that resource and encourage other church leaders

Who we are:

- Group of teams who lead and leverage design, language and digital media to eliminate information obesity and simplify complexity across departments and campuses.
- Resourcing people, nurturing community and encouraging spiritual growth with insanely excellent usability and flow—online and off.
- A unique and inspiring culture full of workhorses who are energized, demanding, encouraging and a little weird—we have a deep appreciation for a serious sense of humor under tight deadlines.
- Fast, focused and high interactive people with a passion for building "WOW" experiences with no office hours or geographic boundaries.
- Team oriented. No matter how great the talent, this is a no-ego fly zone.
- Passionate, heated, diverse and competitive in our brainstorms, observations, ideas and opinions. But, at the end of the day— the why trumps the what and we work as one—everytime.
- Dual platform with love for both mac and PC users. We are a bi-partisan team with no annoying fan boys.
- Super talented in a general way, empowered to bring our own unique blend of skills to the table to get a job done.
- Leaders of people or projects—working together to rally the troops or the tasks.
- Self-directed, driven people who love being out on the cutting edge—finding new ministry and connection opportunities through new technology and communications.
- Initiators who have a healthy degree of impatience with idleness and consistently push ideas and projects forward.
- Servants committed to supporting and fulfilling the mission, vision, values and goals of the church.
